

DEAN

Faculty of Education

University of Victoria

The University of Victoria (UVic) is considered one of the leading research-intensive universities in Canada, ranking consistently among the top universities overall in national and international surveys. Widely recognized for excellence in research, teaching and community engagement, UVic provides innovative programs, experiential learning and a rich and supportive learning community for more than 5,000 employees and 20,000 students, including more than 3,000 graduate students, in Victoria, British Columbia – one of Canada's most beautiful and liveable cities.

Reporting to the Vice-President Academic and Provost, the Dean is responsible for providing strategic and administrative leadership to the Faculty of Education. The Faculty is well-positioned to respond to the changes underway in the evolving and broad discipline of education. The Dean will identify and capitalize on the Faculty's strategic strengths, including the complement of dynamic faculty and staff in the Department of Curriculum & Instruction, the Department of Educational Psychology & Leadership Studies and the School of Exercise Science, Physical and Health Education. The Dean will be the Faculty's greatest advocate across campus and externally, championing the innovation taking place and the broad range of expertise and interests that can be found in the Faculty.

The successful candidate will be an inspiring and strategic leader with a strong record of success as an academic administrator. S/he will have a demonstrated ability to navigate change in a transparent and collaborative manner, and will be an accomplished academic who possesses a substantial record of achievement in teaching and research. Exceptional advocacy and communication skills are essential and a PhD, or equivalent, in a relevant field is required.

The University of Victoria is an equity employer and encourages applications from women, persons with disabilities, visible minorities, Aboriginal peoples, people of all sexual orientations and genders, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of the University. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Should you be interested in learning more about this unique leadership opportunity please contact Kelly Baron McIntosh or Vanessa Sorenson at 604-998-4032 or forward your up-to-date CV, a letter of introduction and the names and contact information for three referees, in confidence, to info@hwest.ca. We will respond to all who express interest.
