

Update on the Certificate in Educational Leadership in Nunavut (CELN) Program

Iqaluit, Nunavut (November 15–20, 2014)

From November 15–20, the Faculty of Education and the Government of Nunavut, Department of Education delivered two graduate courses to 46 Nunavut teachers, literacy coaches, vice-principals, and principals in Iqaluit, NU. Below is a photo of one of the student groups. Also below are photos of the Honorable Minister of Education of Nunavut, Paul Quassa, the Deputy Minister of Education of Nunavut, Kathy Okpik, among other distinguished guests who visited the classrooms.

Students and Instructors in 513 Leadership of School Improvement Process in Nunavut Communities (With a Focus on Literacy Leadership) course

Left to right: Leeveena Nuyalia (Vice Principal, Nakasuk School, NU); Kathy Okpik (Deputy Minister of Education, NU); Hon. Paul Quassa (Minister of Education, NU); and Tracey MacMillan (Principal, Nakasuk School, NU)

Left to right: Jane Preston (Assistant Professor, UPEI); Ron MacDonald (Dean, Faculty of Education, UPEI); Beverly Hill (Principal, Rankin Inlet, NU); and Tracey MacMillan (Principal, Nakasuk School, NU)

Left to right: Shelly Pepler (Executive Director, Curriculum and School Services, Department of Education, NU); and Cully Robinson (Superintendent of Schools, Kivalliq School Operations,. NU)

Left to right: Eileen James (Education Act Implementation Coordinator, NU); and Leeveena Nuyalia (Vice Principal, Nakasuk School, NU)